

A detailed topographic map of a region in Rogoźnica, Poland. The map features contour lines, a grid system, and various geographical features. A large, irregularly shaped area is outlined with a thick black line, indicating the territory subject to a plan change. This area is located in the upper-left and central parts of the map. To the right of this area, there is a more densely populated area with numerous buildings and structures. The map also shows a network of roads and possibly a railway line. The text at the bottom left provides context for the map, indicating it is an annex to a municipal council decision from 2017.
